CCC Website Update

18th July 2021

CCC website visitation has increased visitation in the past 2 months. As previously highlighted, the CCC website needs to be more accessible from the main InCallander Homepage. Unfortunately, due to sudden resignations of community councillors, priorities had to be adjusted to accommodate the communication gap which ensued.

The CCC email address had to be restored as the newly publicised email address did not work which resulted in complaints from the community. Callandercc556@gmail.com was restored, published and communications with the public restored.

The new website which was to be 'piloted' during the 3 month burn down period with the existing CCC website provider, was published on social media in advance of it's go-live. Unfortunately, the website was inaccessible following the resignation of key councillors. Quick work was required to rescind the leave notice and restore business as usual with the official CCC website. The same was communicated widely.

It is anticipated that work to improve the CCC presence on the InCallander website can resume in mid-August once business continuity is fully restored.

Video Recordings of CCC Meetings

Per CCC agreement, all recordings will only be accessible by the CCC chair, secretary and notetaker and are to be used for notetaking purposes only.

Virtual Meetings

We requested the use of Stirling Council’s (SC), Microsoft Teams (MS Teams), account for use of our public meetings which initially was agreed by SC. This would have allowed SC to join CCC meetings without hesitation or conflict of SC policy. Unfortunately, it was found that only SC employees can utilise the SC MS Teams account. Investigation was done to create a CCC ‘MS Teams free’ account, however, we would have lost the ability to record meetings or use breakout rooms. The cost to upgrade the MS Teams free account to include recording and breakout rooms would have been roughly the same as that currently being paid for Zoom, however, it would have been on top of an MS Office 365 account which CCC do not possess. The decision was thus taken to remain with the Zoom platform which allows recording (locally), and breakout rooms.

Ongoing Updates

The website administrator has created a ‘Meeting archive’ using the November reports as the initial instalments. This can be located by navigating from the CCC homepage, Select Meetings from the top row bar, and then meeting archive in the left-hand bar. All reports and minutes which have been submitted are available in the archive from November 2020 to date. Callander Community Councillors with any historical reports or documents are now invited to send those to myself for inclusion in the archive which dates back to 9 January 2017.

InCallander Website

I have scrutinised the InCallander website and it is my opinion that CCDT have pride of place. As elected representatives of Callander it is my position that CCC should occupy that place.

A great place to visit

Callander is a beautiful holiday town situated at the junction of two rivers in an area of outstanding natural beauty known as The Trossachs, with opportunities for many outdoor pursuits. Here on IN CALLANDER you can find out everything you need to know about your visit, whether it's a long stay or a day trip.

A great place to live

Callander has an active local community with many groups and projects. The Callander Community Development Trust (CCDT), a charitable organisation, undertakes many practical projects for the benefit of the whole community.

Welcome Back!

Callander has now moved to Tier 3 and can welcome visitors back to the town. We look

Currently, the only way to navigate to the CCC website is through a text link in the News section. Even here, CCDT are listed first.

The Bracklinn Bridge in Callander has been temporarily closed as a precaution to allow for a specialist engineering survey to be carried out. Please don't use the bridge or climb over the temporary barriers.

My primary proposal is to replace all text under the 'A Great Place to Live' banner with CCC specific information elevating it to first and foremost. There are 3 sections at the bottom of the website for visitors, CCDT and Callander Enterprise. Again, CCC can only be found as a link in the News section which I deem unacceptable. My proposal would need to be agreed by all community councillors before I approach the other organisations for their approval to update the InCallander site.

Alternatively, we could look at removing CCC from the InCallander website and have our own purpose-built website. There are pros and cons to this, the pros being obvious, however, the main downside being up front cost of building the website in addition to bearing all hosting and maintenance costs ourselves as opposed to the current shared model.
